

Rocky Path Ahead For Bill To Extend U.S. Rent Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—A five-month extension of federal rent controls has won the approval of the Senate Banking Committee but it faces a rocky path toward final congressional passage.

The committee pulled a surprise yesterday by voting 10-5 to accept President Eisenhower's recommendation for continuance through Sept. 30 of the ceilings which cover 5,600,000 housing units throughout the nation. These represent about one-third of all rental units.

At the same time, it approved 12-3 a controversial provision to give the President power to freeze all prices, wages and rents in a war crisis.

Freeze Provision Opposed

These were the two major sections in a package economic controls bill on which the committee finished action. It also would extend powers which the administration has asked to continue the mobilization bill.

Senators Bricker (R-Ohio) and Bennett (R-Utah), who were in the minority on rent controls extension and the 90-day freeze in the committee votes, said today they would fight to knock them out on the floor.

Bricker, in an interview, called the freeze provision "the most unlimited power ever given a chief executive." He said Congress could meet the issue by convening promptly and taking action on controls if an emergency strikes.

Lids Die April 30

Bennett told a reporter he was hopeful both sections could be eliminated from the bill on the floor. He said opponents of the freeze expected "vigorous leadership" from Majority Leader Taft (R-Ohio), who has opposed any kind of standby price and wage controls.

Present federal rent curbs are of two kinds.

General ceilings now cover about 4,300,000 housing units in 1,400 cities including such big ones as Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, Baltimore, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Cleveland. These lids were kept on last year by affirmative vote of city councils; they are now scheduled to die at the end of this month.

The committee voted to continue them for five months.

The other rent controls are ceilings which apply in critical defense areas where the housing shortage results from some big military project. These cover 1,300,000 housing units and also die April 30.

Policy Differences Force U.S. Diplomat Kennan To Retire

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department will soon lose the services of George F. Kennan, former ambassador to Moscow and one of the department's two top Russian experts.

His retirement has, in effect, been forced by policy differences between him and Secretary of State Dulles.

Opposed To Liberation

Kennan, long-time policy planning chief and author of the controversial Russian containment policy, will go on a pension "in the near future," the department announced last night.

The containment policy with which Kennan was identified—the idea of holding back Russian expansion of strengthening the free nations—was criticized by Dulles during the election campaigns last year as completely inadequate.

Dulles advocated an active policy for the liberation of Soviet satellite states. In a speech Jan. 16, Kennan cautioned against the U. S. officially committing itself to such a policy.

Thereafter, Dulles called in Kennan, who explained he had not intended the speech as an attack upon testimony which Dulles had given about his liberation proposals to a Senate committee a day earlier. The incident was written off as closed but it was not actually over by any means.

No Place On Team

The policy differences between the two men remained unresolved and Dulles finally decided he would have no new place for Kennan in the diplomatic team which he and President Eisenhower are deploying over the world. Under a law applying to the foreign service, a diplomat of Kennan's super-grade of "career minister" is automatically retired in three months if he gets no new assignment.

Kennan and his long-time associate, Charles E. Bohlen, now on his way to Moscow as ambassador, are the government's two most experienced men in the field of Soviet affairs. They are experts in the Russian language and they have spent years studying Russian history, Communist theory and practice and Soviet behavior.

Kennan said last night he expects to pick up again the scholarly research work in which he was engaged at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J., before he became ambassador to Moscow a year ago. He was then on leave from the department.

Russia asked Kennan's withdrawal as ambassador after he was quoted as voicing criticism, in Germany, at the way foreigners are treated in Moscow.

Actor Tone Sues For $63,666.66

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Franchot Tone seeks $63,666.66 in insurance compensation for "accidental" injuries received on the day of his celebrated first night for the love of actress Barbara Payton.

Tone's suit does not, however, mention the brawl he lost to actor Tom Neal, which put him in a hospital for facial repairs.

And although Tone won the girl, it was only temporary. Miss Payton divorced him a few months after their marriage.

The fight was Sept. 14, 1951, the day concerned in the suit Tone filed yesterday against Lloyd's of London.

The complaint said only that on that day Tone "sustained bodily injury caused by accidental, violent and visible means." He claims he suffered facial disfigurement and impairment of his voice, permanently interfering with his actor's work.

The claim is based on a 1948 $100,000 accident policy. Tone says he filed a claim last May 8 but Lloyd's refused to pay on the ground the injuries were not accidental.

Mother, 12, Tickled Over Her Twin Boys

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It's twin boys for Mrs. Myrtle Brummett, who is "tickled to death" to be a mother at the age of 12.

Her new family—Donald and Ronald, both brunets—arrived Monday at Logan County Hospital. Each tipped the scales at a little more than four pounds. They will be kept in incubators until they gain weight.

Mrs. Brummett has been staying here with her mother and stepfather since her husband, William, 22, was stationed at an Army post in Maryland.

No Stir Caused By Eisenhower In Augusta, Ga.

By MERCER BAILEY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower's choice of Augusta for his White House vacations has made few changes in this crowded boom town.

The curious gather at the airport and along some of the streets when the President flies down for a few days on golf at the Augusta National Golf Club. The newsmen who fly in with him report all they can learn of his activities, whether it's a major statement or appointment or his score for a round of golf.

Has Its Hands Full

But, by and large, the President's visits are taken in stride by official Augusta and its overflowing population. There are three major reasons:

1. The expressed purpose of his visits is golf—plus some relaxation from presidential duties.

2. The Augusta National is a private retreat, catering exclusively to its approximately 200 members.

3. Augusta already has its hands full with the influx of population from the Savannah River plant the Atomic Energy Commission is building a few miles away in South Carolina.

Not even Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church, where the President and first lady worship during their visits, has experienced any great effect.

New Cottage Planned

When the Eisenhowers come to Augusta—accompanied by a platoon of Secret Service agents—they go into seclusion at the Augusta National, site of the annual Masters Golf Tournament.

So far the President has occupied the neat, white frame cottage of Bob Jones, Atlanta's grand slam golfer and president of the National. The cottage, a few hundred yards from the main clubhouse, overlooks the 18th green.

An architect now is working on plans for a new cottage. It will be the property of the club, but will be offered the President for his use during visits here.

Security measures are left to the Secret Service guardians but the club is erecting a high wire fence around the 365-acre grounds.

"We are doing this both to insure more privacy for our members as well as a security measure for the President," said Clifford Roberts, a club official.

Senators Attempt To Fix Blame For Ammunition Pinch

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators sifted through an amazing story of Pentagon red tape and conflicting testimony today looking for some way to uncover who and what were responsible for an ammunition shortage in Korea.

They clearly were not ready to accept the view of former Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett. He said the blame would have to be assigned "to the Army as a whole." They wanted names of those involved and what part they played in ammunition procurement.

In this search, a Senate armed services subcommittee called for testimony today from former Secretary of the Army Frank Pace Jr. and former Under Secretary of the Army Archibald S. Alexander.

Yesterday, Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) denounced the Army's system of preparing ammunition contracts as "the most colossal and terrible thing I've ever known."

"Sometime," he said, "we've got to find out who's responsible."

Byrd's angry outburst came after he heard that an ammunition

Old Sitting Bull Has New Grave

MOBRIDGE, S. D. (AP)—The long-fought-over bones of Sitting Bull rested today in a new grave along the Grand River here, encased in an estimated 20 tons of steel and concrete.

"It will take an A-bomb to move him now," said Walter Tuntland of Mobridge, chairman of the South Dakota Memorial Association.

Remains of the ancient Indian leader, dead for 63 years, were moved here Wednesday in the climax of a long-simmering feud between North and South Dakota groups.

Hereabouts, it was claimed North Dakotans weren't taking care of Sitting Bull's old burial place at Ft. Yates, headquarters of the Standing Rock Sioux Indian Reservation.

After many, but futile, interstate verbal exchanges, a party of South Dakotans took matters—and shovels—into their own hands. They dug up and moved the bones here by truck. The new grave is about 30 miles south of Sitting Bull's old resting place.

"I was tired of the white man's red tape and delays," said Clarence Grey Eagle of Bullhead, S. D., who headed the party. Its members claimed to represent Sitting Bull's heirs.

Swedish Expert Tackles Job Of U. N. Secretary

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Dag Hammarskjöld is arriving from Stockholm today to become secretary general of the U. N. The Swedish diplomat-economist will plunge headlong into issues that gave a giant-sized headache to his predecessor, Trygve Lie.

Hammarskjöld, a 47-year-old bachelor, will be installed tomorrow by the 60-nation General Assembly, which elected him to a five-year term in the $40,000-a-year tax-free job.

Open To Criticism

Russia's agreement with the West in finding Hammarskjöld acceptable for the post was a major move in Premier Georgi M. Malenkov's new peace offensive. But despite Soviet "sweet talk," the fair-haired new secretary general will have to use all his ability at compromise to escape a crossfire of criticism.

The Russians blacklisted Lie for taking a positive stand in endorsing U. N. action against aggression in Korea. Some American circle pictured the Norwegian as too friendly with the Russians and too soft on U. S. left-wingers on his own staff.

Under these pressures Lie resigned last November, expressing hope this would remove at least one of the tensions between East and West.

Has High Reputation

Lie now is free to retire on a $10,000-a-year pension for life.

Hammarskjöld cannot be sure the Soviet bloc will be any softer on him—if he crosses them—than they were on Lie. Other pressures already are forecast.

Hammarskjöld has built up a reputation for handling extremely delicate problems. He is credited with much success in his one-man mission to the U. S. just after World War II to explain Sweden's neutral role during that war and to dispel ill feeling. He enjoys a high reputation in Sweden as a fast thinker, an expert troubleshooter and a top administrator.

One prominent Swedish politician said of his oral reports to the Cabinet:

"He is like a jet plane. When the sound reaches you, the plane already has vanished."

NEEDLES MC CARTHY—In answer to a demand by former Attorney General Francis Biddle, above, that Sen. Start In 10 Days

If an agreement is signed tomorrow, the exchange of disabled prisoners could start within 10 days.

In a surprise move the Reds late in the day accepted the three last revisions in the draft agreement on arrangements for the exchange known as "Operation Little Switch."

A formal signing Friday and ironing out of minor technical details could pave the way for a resumption of full-scale armistice talks to resolve the long remaining issue blocking a truce in Korea—an overall exchange of prisoners.

A highly placed American source said the Communists already have begun gathering together the sick and wounded for repatriation through Panmunjom, and that the exchange probably will take place within 10 days.

Only 125 Americans

The Reds turned down a U. N. attempt to get them to increase the number of POWs they said they would turn over to the Allies.

The Reds stuck to their figure of 600—including probably not more than 125 Americans.

The Allies have said they are ready to send back 5,800 disabled Red captives, 5,100 North Koreans and 700 Chinese.

Rear Adm. John C. Daniel, chief U. N. liaison officer, said he tried three times in the meeting at Panmunjom Thursday to get the Communists to sign the agreement.

They wouldn't get out their pens, he said, but they told him they would be ready to sign at Friday's 11 a.m. meeting.

Double Jet-Ace

TOKYO, Friday (AP)—Red China's Peiping radio said early today that double jet ace Harold Fischer was shot down and captured in Manchuria Tuesday.

The radio quoted a dispatch from Mukden, Manchuria near the Yalu River saying Fischer bailed out of his Sabre jet.

Peiping said Fischer's plane was intercepted by anti-aircraft units and the "People's Air Force."

Capt. Fischer, 27, of Sweet City, Iowa, failed to return from his 70th mission Tuesday.

The Red broadcast said that "according to his statement, the captured pilot belongs to the 39th Squadron, 51st Group, 51st Wing, U. S. Air Force."

Peiping said he was shot down over the Manchurian town of Shih-tou-cheng near the border. Pilots are forbidden to fly over Manchuria, but the Communists frequently accuse Allied fliers of violating the border.

Cancer Detection Laboratory Serves U. P. Without Cost

One of the latest and most important services offered to the people of Delta County and the entire U. P. through funds raised during the annual April cancer campaign is the cancer detection laboratory located at Menominee. Several years ago the American Cancer Society granted a fellowship in foliative cytology at the Mayo Clinic to Dr. Raymond J. Rogers, pathologist. This is a system by which it is possible to detect the presence of cancer cells in a specimen from any normal opening in the body, such as the mouth, lungs, uterus, etc., and is some times called the "wet smear method."

Upon Dr. Rogers' completion of the course of study at Mayo Clinic, at St. Joseph's Hospital at Menominee offered to donate space for use as a cytology laboratory.

The Lloyd Foundation donated the microscopes and laboratory ovens; and the U. P. County Cancer units supplied all the additional needed equipment. The entire cost of maintaining the laboratory under the direction of Dr. Rogers and his technicians, including salaries, doctors' specimen kits, mailing charges, telephone service, electricity, etc., is borne by the U. P. Cancer Society Units of the A. C. S. This type of laboratory is seldom found outside the larger cities or medical centers, and its use is offered her absolutely free to residents of the U. P.

The laboratory supplies all doctors in the area with specimen kits to be used for their patients and the only cost to the patient is that of the local doctor who takes the specimen and sends it to the cytology laboratory for diagnosis. This method of detection frequently discovers the presence of cancer cells long before any symptoms are evident.

A report from the laboratory recently received by Mrs. A. M. Gilbert, President of the U. P. Cancer Association of fifteen counties, indicates that there is a generally increasing use of this service by doctors throughout the Peninsula. During the six months period ending with February, 631 wet smear specimens were sent to the cytology laboratory by U. P. doctors. Of this number, 93 specimens were from Delta County. If these patients had had to pay the commercial rate for the tests it would have cost at least $465, probably more, depending on the laboratory involved. The

Spring Clean-Up Starts April 15

Spring is clean-up time and Escanaba residents are being encouraged to get out the rake and shovel to make their own property and the city more sightly and to reduce fire hazards, Safety Director Glen S. Leonard announced today.

The spring clean-up date of April 15 has been set to coincide with the start of the Fire Department's annual fire inspection and fire prevention program.

The city participates in the clean-up by collecting refuse from alleys, cleaning the streets, removing snow fences and preparing the parks for summer use. Residents can cooperate by placing their own property in a sightly condition as early in the year as possible.

Benefit from the clean-up will be twofold, Leonard pointed out: 1—A better appearance for Escanaba, and 2—The prevention of fires.

"Good housekeeping is the key to fire safety," he said. "The householder should not only keep rubbish and dirt to a minimum but also make a regular check-up for any existing fire threats."

Listed as good fire prevention rules were the following: Dispose of rubbish regularly; protect wall, floors and ceilings from heated stoves, pipes and furnaces; keep ashes in covered metal pails; eliminated frayed cords and defective electrical appliances; use the proper fuses, usually 15 amps.

Hang up dead mops and keep oily rags in metal containers; do not keep gasoline or flammable cleaning fluids in the house; keep chimneys cleaned and in good repair; keep matches in tins and away from heat and young children; keep combustibles away from stoves or fires.

New Glass Schools Bad For Atom Bomb

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—A civil defense official says new school houses whose exterior walls are as much as 80% glass are attractive in design but cause for serious concern "in view of the possible use of atomic weapons."

That comment was made last night by John M. McGreevey, state CD director who was a spectator at last month's civil defense atomic test in Nevada.

Comedy Featured In Final Play Of Series

"Glad Tidings", Edward Mabley's three-act comedy hit, will be presented in the final play of the Civic Drama Guild series here tonight under the sponsorship of the Escanaba Lions Club. Curtain time is 8:15 at the William W. Oliver auditorium.

The play is being offered to Escanaba theater patrons at a price only half of the single admission prices in effect in the past. The Escanaba Lions Club drama series chairman, Mel Trams, emphasized that the low price was established in an effort to determine whether it will be possible to continue the series another year.

"We are trying to learn whether there are enough local people interested in professional plays to warrant continuance of the series," Trams said. "Our sale at higher prices was discouraging. If we can fill the auditorium or reach near-capacity at lower prices, we will be encouraged to book the series next year."

Professional Casts
The plays are professionally-cast and professionally-staged. They have been very popular with the patrons in the past but the series failed to reach the attendance desired.
The cast includes the following:
Phyllis Manning (Maud Abbott) is making her third year with Civic Drama Guild. She was first seen in "Harvey" and last year played "Sally" in "Voice of the Turtle".

Wendell Mayes (Steve) is best known for his performance of Elwood Dowd in "Harvey". He played the role of "Bill" in last year's "Voice of the Turtle".

Judith Lee (Ethel Nash) served her professional apprenticeship at the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre on Stratford on Avon. Her first Broadway job was in Lawrence Oliver's "Romeo and Juliet". She has a Master's Degree in speech from Columbia University.

Lead in "Finian's Rainbow"
Jean Hagerman (Claire) made her professional debut several years ago at the famous Oquirrhut Theatre in Maine. She has been on tour with Margaret Webster and has been the leading ingenue at Cape May Playhouse and New Hope, Pa.

Nancy Schnabel (Agnes) was a finalist in the Philip Morris College competition. She has had two years of musical stock where she played and sang the lead roles in "Finian's Rainbow".

Conrad Osborne (Terry) is not much older than the lad he portrays in the play. Yet he already has had several seasons of stock and has appeared many times in network television programs.

One Week's Tax Receipts More Than U.S. Received In 83 Years

THE current issue of the Washington Report of the United States Chamber of Commerce contains an item about taxes that is quite an eye-opener concerning federal finances.

In the five day period March 16-20, according to official Treasury Department statistics as reported in Washington Report, gross receipts totalled $5,583 million. This one week's collection, virtually all of which is tax revenues, is greater than the $5,418 million collected in the 83 years from 1789 through 1871 during which we fought the War of 1812, the Mexican War of 1846, the Civil War, paid the salaries of 18 presidents and the expenses of 41 Congresses, made the Louisiana Purchase from France, bought Florida from Spain and purchased Alaska from Russia.

It might also have been added that during most, if not all of those years, the Federal Government operated without incurring any appreciable debt. But the $5,583,000,000 collected in the Feb. 16-20 period will not be sufficient, added to the many additional billions collected during the year, to meet this fiscal year's operating expenses.

These astounding figures on Federal taxation should convince anyone, no matter how skeptic, that the national government must begin a drastic program of expense retrenchment.

When the Constitution was amended to permit the taxation of personal income, no one conceived that in a matter of a comparatively few years the Federal government would establish tax rates so high that they would begin at 20% of an individual's income and accelerate to as high as 92% of his income.

Certainly the time is at hand to cut out the political boondoggling, the pork barrel, the padded payrolls, the handouts and to begin removing from the backs of the American workers the heavy burden of taxation.

Enough is enough!

Scientist Quietly Rocks The World

IN the dawn hours, a citizen of Las Vegas, Nev., may be awakened by the sound of rattling windows, or a quick, bright flash in the sky. This is how the shattering power of the atom bomb, exploding 60 miles away, intrudes itself upon him.

The bomb is the terrifying product of intense searching by the greatest scientific brains in the western world. In an age which still uses war, the scientists could not escape the compulsions of this quest. They had to make the bomb—if they could.

No windows rattle in Pittsburgh. There is no bright flash, followed by streaming black headlines proclaiming the event.

Still, the scientist is at work there, too. In a different way, a quieter way. Tucked away in a college laboratory amid the masculine clamor of steel-making, he is patiently hunting the elusive chemical combinations that may cure or ease some of man's most troublesome diseases. And he is finding them.

Two weeks ago Dr. Jonas Salk, 38, a University of Pittsburgh scientist, announced a new experimental vaccine that appears to be highly effective in preventing all three major kinds of the dreaded polio.

Now Dr. Salk speaks again, telling us he has found a potent vaccine that gives long-lasting protection against influenza, one of the worst epidemic diseases medical men must battle.

Work remains to be done before these vaccines may be safely mass-produced for the general public. But Dr. Salk and his associates seem headed down the right path.

What they are doing may not rouse the Pittsburgher from his sleep. But it might shake the world.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

POWER WITH WORDS

(Answers to questions of general interest will be published.)

Maundy Thursday—Mrs. W. S. F., Carson City, Nev.—Maundy Thursday got its peculiar name in an interesting manner. In former times it was the custom of the kings of England to commemorate the example of deep humility set by Jesus at the Feast of the Passover. Accordingly, on the evening before Good Friday the king reserved from Norman days until the time old and personally washed their feet. After which, money, food, or clothing was distributed among them. This custom, observed from Norman days until the time of James II (1685), became known as maundy (and the gifts as maundies). The name came from a corrupt pronunciation of the Norman-French word mande, meaning "commandment," which was heard many times during the ceremony. That is, the celebration of the washing of feet was followed by a reading of the thirty-fourth verse of the thirteenth chapter of the Book of St. John, which reads, in English, "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another . . ."

Persian—Miss E. E. R., Chicago—The usual pronunciation of Persian in the United States is as if the word were spelled PUR-shun. But the pronunciation PUR-shun is also frequently heard and is the only one used in England.

The Doctor Says . . . Operation To Correct Bowlegs Is Hazardous In Grownups

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

In most cases deformity of the legs, such as bowing or knock-knees, are the result of softbony during childhood coming from rickets, which is a vitamin-deficiency disease. Most such cases could have been prevented by supplying the needed vitamins during the times of year when the sun is weak.

Q—Can you tell me if it is dangerous to have an operation for bowlegs, or is there an exercise that will correct them?

A. B.

A—Nothing is said in the question about the age of the person with bowlegs. In a grownup it is rather rare and also hazardous to try to attempt operations to correct bowlegs, but in childhood sometimes corrections can be made. There is no exercise which will be particularly helpful.

Q—Will you please discuss a prolapsed calan and its treatment?

H. M.

A—This means there is a sagging of the intestines. Frequently it produces no symptoms which need correction, but sometimes physicians recommend corsets or possibly some other measures. Few surgeons recommend operation except in the most exaggerated cases.

Q—I have occasional attacks of pain in my chest, but the doctors tell me it is not heart trouble. What other conditions could cause this pain?

O. M.

A—A vast number of things besides heart trouble can cause pain in the chest. It can be the result of neuritis, or some form of muscular rheumatism; it can be from indigestion or something else in the abdominal organs reflected up to the chest. It can result from difficulty with the vertebrae of the backbone; indeed, in some cases it appears to be a reflection of worry rather than any identifiable physical cause.

Q—Is it possible to have more than one attack of chicken pox? My daughter is supposed to have had it twice.

Mrs. H. W.

A—Second attacks of chicken pox are rare, but apparently have been reported. It is also possible that one of the two attacks was some other contagious disease which resembled chicken pox in its symptoms.

Q—My sister has a fatty tumor, but the doctor told her it would probably never bother her, and not to have an operation unless it did. What are these fatty tumors?

Reader.

A—A tumor made up of fatty tissue is called a lipoma. These tumors are quite common and as a rule cause no trouble, and do not need to be removed. Their is not known.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Commerce Weeks has done a lot of talking about economy, but he doesn't always practice what he preaches. For example, he has left $38,000 in the budget to pay for personal government planes to fly him around the country.

In fact, he just got back from a week-end flight to Palm Beach, Fla., in his plush government airplane. It cost the taxpayers $1,600 for the plane expense alone. Yet Weeks could have bought a round-trip ticket on a commercial airline for $129.95. Just what government business he had at the Palm Beach winter resort is not known and is not commented on at the Commerce Department.

Weeks has scheduled 250 hours for himself in the Commerce Department's special airliner during the next fiscal year. He has also scheduled another 75 hours in the smaller Beechcraft and 25 hours in chartered planes.

He has also allowed approximately $235,500 worth of flying time for his top aides, mostly in the Commerce Department's plush airliner, which costs $125 an hour to operate. In fact, Weeks has ordered that the big plane "be limited to high-level administrative or special demonstration flights."

Senator Joe McCarthy was hurrying back to his office. He had just lunched with John Foster Dulles where the Secretary of State stroked the Wisconsin senator's fur back into place after Mutual Security Boss Harold Stassen had ruffled it by condemning McCarthy's private agreement with Greek shipowners.

As McCarthy bounced into his office, reporters started firing questions about the luncheon.

"Girls," he said to his staff in a loud voice for all to hear, "I'm going into my room. If you hear any news about Stassen jumping out of a tall building, let me know at once."

"What did you and Secretary Dulles have for lunch?" queried a reporter.

"It was very pleasant," replied Joe. "Stassen-meat."

Note—Stassen was the man McCarthy boomed for president in 1948, worked for him diligently at the GOP convention in Philadelphia.

IKE'S POWER PROBLEMS

Genial Donald McKay, the hard-working Secretary of the Interior, is having a tough time making up his mind about the biggest remaining water-power project in the United States—Hell's Canyon.

In fact, he's very much on the spot. Probably the reason is that he can't get a definite decision from the White House. During the presidential campaign, General Eisenhower almost took a stand on this dynamite-laden power project between Idaho and Oregon. But he didn't. He still hasn't.

Last summer Ike was invited to a meeting of western state governors in Boise at the office of Idaho's Governor Len Jordan, where it was expected that he would come out for private development of the Snake River by the Idaho Power Company.

However, opponents of the private utilities, including his brother Milton, got very busy backstage. They inspired several newspaper editorials warning like that the question of public power vs. private utilities was full of political headaches. Roscoe Flemming of the Denver Post also published an open letter to Eisenhower warning him of the pitfalls at Boise. So Ike sidestepped, took no stand as between private or government development of Hell's Canyon.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Gracie Pfost of Nampa, Idaho, running for congress on the Democratic ticket, met the issue head-on, came out for public power, and was elected. Not only was she the only Democrat elected from Idaho, but she defeated a sitting Republican.

IKE HESITATES

Meanwhile the Eisenhower administration has hesitated. Unfortunately it can't hesitate much longer. For the Idaho Power Company has put Secretary McKay and the White House squarely on the spot by asking the Federal Power Commission for a license to build the Ox Bow project. This is a smaller dam on the Snake River which would be swallowed up and flooded if the larger Hell's Canyon dam is built.

If Hell's Canyon is developed, there is no use letting the Idaho Power Company build the Ox Bow dam; so Secretary McKay has got to make up his mind soon. Alhe's got to tell congress how he feels.

Congress asked him two months ago for an opinion on developing Hell's Canyon, but McKay ducked. He has also asked the FPC for an extension of time to reply regarding the Ox Bow dam. But he will have to reply before May.

Meanwhile, McKay is looking anxious in the direction of the White House waiting for the cue.

Note—Hell's Canyon is the last ideal dam site on the North American continent. It has the deepest hole for impounding water, does not inundate farmland, is located on a natural canyon where the water can easily be stored. It will supply 1,400,000 kilowatts of energy, and all its water will be used in seven drops to the Pacific.

THE VEEP RUNS AGAIN

Alben Barkley, once vice president but always the "Veep", is definitely planning to run for governor of Kentucky in 1955. He doesn't want to go back to the U. S. Senate, partly because the Democrats would immediately elect him their floor leader even though he'd be a "freshman." But the governorship of Kentucky does appeal to him. It wouldn't require too much work, he'd win it easily, and finally it represents the only political race he ever lost.

Back in 1925, when the Veep was a congressman, he ran for the Democratic nomination for governor and lost by 52,000 votes. Barkley has never forgotten this. He campaigned in favor of prohibition in the nation's bourbon center, but even so Barkley couldn't quite understand his defeat.

"We Kentuckians," he says, "used to vote dry but drink wet."

In 1935, Barkley was as "dry" as Mr. Volstead. Despite this he lost.

In 1955 he'll be a "wet" and expects to win.

A New Cop On The Beat

Giving Away Secrets:

Reds Use Dope To Pry Out Facts About U.S. Atom Bomb

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
and DOYLE KLINE
NEA Correspondents

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(NEA)—There's impressive evidence that the latest Communist espionage technique—the use narcotics—is being widely employed in this area, which contains the heart and brains of the nation's nuclear weapons program.

Albuquerque Chief of Police Paul Shaver revealed exclusively to these reporters that with in a little more than a year there have been more dope cases than in all of the city's previous history.

They have involved military personnel and civilians from bases where top-secret projects are being pursued.

Federal officials admit only that they are aware of it. They move in swiftly, and dispose of each case confidentially.

This is one facet to the bigger security situation.

Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, a former FBI agent, said:

"I recognize the especially difficult problem in my state occasioned by the existence here of major atomic-weapon and guided-missile projects. And in an effort to maintain maximum security, all members of the New Mexico State Police Department are co-operating in every way with federal investigatory agencies."

This means working with probably the greatest variety and concentration of federal agents to be found anywhere in the U. S. They include the General Intelligence Agency, Air Force Office of Special Investigation, Office of Naval Intelligence, the Army's intelligence office and Criminal Investigation Division, AEC's security forces, Armed Forces Special Weapons Project security men and Treasury's Secret Service and narcotics agents.

Yet in spite of this impressive force, vital secrets are leaking out. One asks "why?"

One criticism levelled at the present setup is the lack of a central authority to coordinate security efforts.

Security officials frankly admit that numerous problems arise which cut across the arbitrary boundaries created by federal status under which they must operate.

Unfortunately, they say there is no federal law which provides machinery for coordinating their efforts.

Nevertheless, they agree on a common evaluation of the security problems involved:

1. The 20,000 atomic workers in the area are "walking dictionaries of restricted data." Locking up this mass of detail is the big headache.

2. The presence of so-called "sleeper agents" of the Klaus Fuchs stripe must be considered a constant possibility.

3. The "physical" problem entails trying to hide such things as tunnel entrances in a mountain, "classifying" roads, buildings, and placing some kind of a cloak around the myriad components of nuclear weapons which have to be handled by thousands of persons.

A costly, continuing education program is maintained to answer problem No. 1. Motion pictures, posters, lectures on how enemy agents operate, are poured on workers and their families. The program harps on the theme that fragments of information funnelled through the enemy's "collection agency" reveal the big secrets.

For the second category, there exists a complete secret system of "compartmentalization" and "access areas" created to keep the "sleeper agent" from learning more than a narrow segment of the program. Then there is the exhaustive background study made of each new employee.

Again it must be pointed out that all of these efforts are apparently not doing the job.

What is the answer? A couple of fresh approaches are offered.

Radical as it sounds, there is an undercover movement to install a kind of alcoholic prohibition for all persons who work in secret war plants. Advocates of this idea claim that 30 per cent of the leaks can be traced directly back to drinking.

Another suggestion is to try to shorten the long "lead time" of the various programs. Nuclear tests, for instance, are in the planning stage for many months. The mere existence of these plans, in the hands of hundreds of persons, increases the hazards of security leaks.

Most recommendations for security reforms deal with tightening present methods.

Bernard Baruch, in his recent appearance before a Senate committee, said:

"All this talk about government secrecy is a lot of hokum. Foreign agents know more about our military matters than our own people. They went to the heart and center of the atomic bomb before I knew one was being made."

It's a tough problem. Your national security may depend on somebody finding a solution.

POLICE CHIEF SHAVER: He sees more dope than ever before.

So They Say

I will stay here (in Mexico) until all this is settled. Then I want to go and live in Spain for a while. That's as far as my plans go. Former U. S. ambassador to Mexico William O. Dwyer.

When a human being cannot work in freedom, he no longer is the master of his labor, but the slave of it.—German Evangelical Bishop Otto Dibelius.

I have made out an application for commitment to an asylum, which is to be filed immediately as soon as I take on a job like that (Price Stabilization Director) again.—Michael V. DiSalle.

The welfare of our people—and their welfare is all that is at stake—depends in a very large measure on the condition of our business and industrial structure.—Secretary of Commerce-designate Sinclair Weeks.

Lack of public knowledge has made a fertile field for new forms of quackery which exploit the consumer pocketbook and impair his health by inducing him to rely on bizarre diets for treatment of serious diseases.—U. S. Food and Drug Commissioner C. W. Crawford.

There is going to be no taint of suspicion about the new State Department. That goes for the top, bottom and all between.—Secretary of State-designate John Foster Dulles.

Such a statement (that chlorophyll is toxic) would be at variance with the experience of the human race over thousands of years.—Chemist Dr. A. H. Corwin.

We (former Communists) have to be careful where we go. The Communists have many strong men, skilled in the use of the knife and blackjack.—Former Communist Manning Johnson.

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE BOOM YEARS—Upper Peninsula people should forget the 1950 U. S. census figures that revealed a population decline in this northern part of the state and concentrate on the significant signs of economic upswing.

If they can they should forget the unkind Time magazine comment of a few years ago that Northern Michigan is a land of stumps, worked-out mines and near poverty.

For these are heartening days. The present and the future look brighter than in many years. This region so poetically and impractically titled the "Land of Hiawatha" should not be sold short by those have experienced past disappointment.

To be specific we intend to set down some of the hopeful signs along the pathway to the Upper Peninsula's economic recovery.

TRANSPORTATION—On April 4 there began regularly scheduled air transportation between the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

North Central Airlines has routed this travel via Green Bay, Wis., it is true, but the time will inevitably come when a more direct route will be required. That sufficient mail and passenger traffic exists to warrant such a link is significant of Upper Peninsula growth.

Federal and state highways in the Upper Peninsula are being annually improved. Additional miles of road are being hard surfaced. Traffic volume is at an all-time high.

Lakes shipping is entering a banner year and in tonnage is expected to exceed the tonnage goals established during World War II. The Chicago & North Western Railroad is planning to ship 8 million tons of ore from Escanaba this season, for example, compared to 5½ million tons last year.

To be mentioned now only as a possibility is the proposed construction of a bridge spanning the Straits of Mackinac. But the prospect for its construction is brighter than at any time in history.

THE "BIG INCH"—There is evidence in many communities from the west to the east in the Upper Peninsula of another transportation media soon to be accomplished.

It is the Lakehead Pipe Line Company's $76,000,000 crude oil pipeline extension over a 635 mile route from Superior, Wis., to Port Huron, Mich., and Sarnia, Ontario. "Big Inch" pipe 30 inches in diameter is being stockpiled here and there along the route across the Upper Peninsula. By the end of this year the pipe will be buried and oil will be flowing through it from the vast fields of Edmonton, Alberta.

"The effect of this extension will be fourfold," reports the Lakehead Pipe Line Company.

"It will reduce the transportation cost of delivered crude oil. It will provide a year around supply not only for Sarnia refineries but also for other refineries which may be built at approximate points along or adjacent to the new line. It will also greatly strengthen the crude oil supply of that portion of the North American continent. It will contribute materially to our national security."

The construction of refineries in the Upper Peninsula, if required, certainly will have an encouraging effect upon the region's economy.

THE CHALLENGE—Despite laments and the forebodings, new iron mines are being opened and successful experiments in the utilization of low-grade ore is going forward.

At White Pine near Ontonagon a vast new copper mining development is under way.

The city of Iron Mountain, hard hit by the closing of the Ford operations a couple years ago, is making phenomenal recovery.

Escanaba is rising on a wave of local employment and the end is not in sight. Harnischfeger Corporation is expanding. Mead Corporation has plans for expansion of its operations at Escanaba Paper Company.

And across the Upper Peninsula, in cities and in rural area, there is evidence of hope and faith in the future—the construction of new school buildings to house the ever-growing child population.

When the 1960 U. S. census figures are released they will tell a different story. This decade is a boom period for the Upper Peninsula.

Body Of Ex-King In Lisbon Tomb

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—The body of ex-King Carol II of Romania lay entombed today in the Pantheon of St. Vincent's Roman Catholic Church here, traditional resting place of Portuguese royalty.

An Anglican chaplain conducted the burial service Tuesday for the former monarch, who died of a heart attack Saturday at 59. Carol had been reared in the Greek Orthodox faith but no Orthodox priest was available here. The Roman Catholic Church refused to perform the ceremony because Carol divorced his first two wives.

The exiled monarch's third wife, the former Mme. Elena Lupescu, and a handful of European royalty were on hand for the service. Carol's son, ex-King Mihai, remained in Switzerland but sent a wreath.

Garden Homemakers Present Gifts To Pinecrest Patients

POWER SPALDING — The Homemakers Club of Garden, under the leadership of Mrs. R. A. LeCote, chairman, and Mrs. Kenneth Ralph, secretary, contacted Miss Hedwig Schupp, director of rehabilitation at Pinecrest Sanatorium, informing her that the club members would like to make gifts for the patients at Pinecrest and asking for suggestions of what the patients needed or desired.

As a result of this project the patients were happily surprised when they received many very fine presents from the group. Among the gifts were nine shoe bags, four ladies' pajamas, two dozen pairs of socks and eleven large boxes of home made candy. There was enough of the delicious candy for every patient.

The gifts were greatly appreciated by all.

Farmers Reject Milk Price Cut

EBEN—More than 300 members of the Upper Peninsula Milk Producers Association voted unanimously here last night to reject a proposal of Marquette County dairies to reduce the price of milk to the dairies.

The Marquette dairies had notified the milk producers that they intend to put into effect a new price schedule on April 16. The new schedule would reduce the price paid to the farmers approximately 80 cents a cwt. The dairies now pay $4.50 per cwt. of milk testing 3.5 per cent butterfat content.

The new price would gear the price of milk to the price of cheddar cheese, using a formula which would be 20 per cent over the cheddar cheese price but not to exceed 20 cents per cwt. over this price. Hauling charges would be deducted. The current price, with hauling charges deducted, would be $3.71 per cwt. for farmers living within 35 miles of the dairies and $3.66 for farmers living more than 35 miles from the dairies.

E. P. Johnson, Rapid River Rte. 1, president of the milk producers, said that the next move in the controversy is up to the dairies.

Ray Jacks, of Rock, vice president, and Ed Anderson of Sundell, secretary, were delegated to attend the farmers' meeting in East Lansing and to discuss milk price conditions with Gov. Williams.

Rhine City Given Back To Germans

KEHL, Germany (P)—This Rhine city of 12,000 was handed back to the Germans by the French thus completing a step-by-step return agreed on by France, the United States and Britain in Washington on April 8, 1949.

When Nazi forces occupied Alsace-Lorraine, Kehl on the German side of the river was declared a part of the French city of Strasbourg.

When Allied forces pushed westward in the war French civilians moved into Kehl, since it had become a suburb of Strasbourg. Most of the German population had been evacuated eastward as the war moved toward the heart of Germany.

Today about 8,000 of Kehl's former population are back in their homes and the remainder are due soon.

Ireland Gets Taft
WASHINGTON (P)—William Howard Taft III, 37-year-old son of Sen. Taft of Ohio, was sworn in today as Ambassador to Ireland. He thus became the country's youngest full-fledged ambassador.

He took the oath of office in Secretary of State Dulles' office before approximately 100 spectators, including his mother. His father, the Senate Republican leader, stayed on Capitol Hill to greet West German Chancellor Adenauer.

House Bill Provides Public Inspection Of Welfare Roster

LANSING (P)—Relief and assistance rolls would be opened to virtually unlimited public inspection under a bill passed in the House yesterday 56-41.

Solid Democratic opposition was augmented by some Republicans on the grounds the measure would drive worthy recipients off the rolls but would not bother chiselers.

As it passed, the bill requires county welfare departments to prepare monthly lists of the names of recipients of direct relief, old age assistance, aid to the blind, aid to dependent children and aid to the physically handicapped. The lists, to contain the amounts of aid received, would be available for inspection by anyone who files a written application.

The lower chamber passed 62-11 and sent to the Senate a bill to provide criminal penalties against tuberculosis sufferers who refuse to be hospitalized.

The bill would send a violator to the tuberculosis unit of a state prison for up to six months, assess a fine up to $500 or both.

Passed unanimously was a codification of present marine laws which increases powers of local units to deal with reckless and unsafe use of all boats and to build harbors, channels and other marine facilities.

House approval was also given measures to permit Probate Courts to waive marriage license fees where the couple is indigent and the prospective bride is pregnant and to raise the pay of State Pharmacy Board members from $10 to $20 a day.

Huge Freighter Joins Ore Fleet

LORAIN, O. (P)—Inspectors today approved the 690-foot freighter E. T. Weir as ready to join the Great Lakes ore and coal fleets.

The new vessel, largest ever built on the Great Lakes, is owned by the National Steel Corp., and operated by the M. A. Hanna Co. The Weir was built at the American Ship Building Co., here.

Yesterday, more than 100 engineers and technicians went over the ship during her trial run. The ship is expected to clear Lorain in a few days for Allouez, Wis., to take on her first load.

Hanna now will be operating the two largest bulk carriers on the lakes, the other being the 714-foot Joseph H. Thompson. The Thompson is a converted ocean-going troopship brought to the lakes in sections and assembled at Chicago.

With a rated capacity of 20,000 tons at summer draft, the Weir will be the largest carrier on the lakes, even surpassing the Thompson.

She will not be able to use all the ports, because of her size. Hanna plans to run the Weir from Allouez to Detroit or Cleveland most of the time.

Skipper is Capt. Ross Maitland of Buffalo. Charles Hoffman of Ludington, Mich., is chief engineer.

Young Father Killed By Freight Train At Ferndale Crossing

DETROIT (P)—A young father on his way home from a factory night shift was killed at 2:50 a. m. today in a grade crossing collision.

The crash, on the Grand Trunk Western tracks in suburban Ferndale, took the life of Bernard J. Vandenbosch, 22. A freight train wrecked Vandenbosch's automobile.

The victim left his wife, Beverly, 18, and a daughter, Deborah, 1. A second child is expected by Mrs. Vandenbosch.

World population has been increasing at a rate of about one per cent every year.

Wall Street

By RADAR WINGET
NEW YORK (P)—Quiet trading today accompanied a lower tilt in the stock market.

After a two-day rise, the stock market appeared to run out of buying power.

Few sections of the market resisted the gentle downward movement. A few plus signs persisted in merchandising shares, chemicals, oils, golds, and motion pictures. They had little influence on the rest of the market, however.

Lower prices were paid for Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, Philco, American Telephone, Consolidated Natural Gas, Phelps Dodge, Alled American, Westinghouse electric, Santa Fe, Gulf Oil, and United Air Lines.

Bandit Battler Loses 6th Bout

BALTIMORE (P)—Max Cooper, who used to "do a little boxing," lost his first decision yesterday in six starts against an assortment of unknown, murderous thugs intent upon robbing him.

A 60-year-old gentleman of firm resolution, Cooper has been wounded twice in the last 12 years by robbers who keep coming back—endlessly it seems to Max and his wife Frieda.

"I'll tell you the truth, we've stopped counting," Mrs. Cooper said last night.

But the records show at least six armed holdup attempts in their retail liquor store since 1940. The gray-haired Cooper has fought them off successfully five times, using weapons ranging from bottles of liquor to guns.

Twice he has been shot in the arm, his wife was once wounded in the back.

Yesterday's visitor got away with $90 and escaped Cooper's vengeful fists.

The guy slipped up behind him while he was loading a beer cooler and jammed a gun in his back, Cooper told police.

North Koreans Free 7 British Subjects

TOKYO (P)—The Pyongyang radio late tonight said the North Korean government had freed seven British subjects for repatriation to Russian representatives at Antung in Southern Manchuria.

The announcement was made by the North Korean Foreign Ministry.

Radio press monitors said the broadcast identified three of those released as Vivian Holt, British minister to Seoul at the start of the war; George Blake, vice consul; and Philip Dean Michael Gigantes; war correspondent for the London Observer and International News Service.

Other names were not available.

Wages Trimmed In Auto Plants

DETROIT (P)—The auto industry's "Big Three" producers were solid today in cutting a penny-an-hour off the wages of their more than 600,000 employees.

And it appeared only a matter of time until scores of smaller firms would do likewise under their cost-of-living pay agreements with the CIO United Auto Workers.

Finishing out the action in the Big Three was Chrysler Corp., which announced late yesterday that it would make the pay cut effective next Monday. Similar announcements came from General Motors on Tuesday and from Ford earlier yesterday.

The actions were taken under the escalator clauses in five-year contracts which most auto firms have with the UAW. The moves followed announcement by the government's Bureau of Labor Statistics that its "old style" index showed a drop in the cost-of-living for the three-month period ended Jan. 15.

That index had been scheduled to expire the first of this year but was revived by President Eisenhower's executive order. Because some operations of the index had been permitted to lapse the BLS was six weeks late in computing the Jan. 15 figure, saving the auto workers a cut during that time. The next adjustment will be made June 1 on the basis of the April 15 figure.

Smart Free-Loader Beats Living Costs

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P)—Do you want to beat the high cost of living?

One sure way is to become a free loader. Millions of Americans have learned to follow this quick, easy path to a rich full life they could otherwise never afford.

You, too, can become one. All it takes is a little patience, a callous on your conscience, a lot of brass and gall, and the hide of an elderly elephant.

Panhandling An Art
Free loading is merely hitchhiking through life on other people's good will. It is panhandling raised to a pure art form.

In the old days a free loader was a frowzy character who sidled through a saloon door when the bartender's back was turned and wolfed his way through the free lunch counter without buying a five-cent beer. Everybody knew who he was and nobody had any respect for him.

Those innocent times are gone. Today if all the free loaders at some of the better functions were flung out on the pavement the place would be left empty except for the host.

Bandaged Hand Helps
There are dumb free loaders and smart free loaders. A dumb free loader goes into a night club, sits down at a table with some chance acquaintances, catches some drinks and a meal, and hopes to duck out to the men's room when the waiter brings the bill.

But suppose the bill comes while the other fellows are away. The dumb free loader is stuck with an emergency. He has to pay.

A smart free loader, on the other hand, shows up with his right hand bandaged.

"Burned it helping a pal put out a fire in his car," he explains.

Right away he's a hero. He drinks his fill, the girls cut up his steak for him. And it makes no difference if no other man is at the table when the bill arrives. It can wait.

For some reason nobody ever expects a guy to pick up a check with a bandaged right hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Calcaterra and sons, Anthony and Mark, and Mrs. Clarence Castler of Norway, Mich., visited with Mrs. Robert Dallapiazza last Sunday. Mrs. Dallapiazza is the former Janice Schoen.

AT BRECKINRIDGE — Thomas Gasman, who entered the U. S. Army March 11, is undergoing basic training with the 516th Airborne Division, Camp Breckinridge, Ky. A graduate of St. Joseph's High School in 1952, Gasman worked at Cully's Gas Station, Wells, before going in the army. He is the son of Mrs. Ray Gasman, 206 N. 19th St.

After Speed Record

BURBANK, Calif. (P)—Pilot Joe De Bona took off at 7:35.40 a. m. (10:35.40 a. m. Eastern Standard Time) today for New York, hoping to push actor James Stewart's P-51 Mustang to a new four and a half hour transcontinental speed record for propeller planes.

About 1,200 persons a year are drowned in the United States in accidents involving small boats.

Swedish Expert Tackles Job Of U. N. Secretary

him in Stockholm, in his diplomatic work in the organization of European Economic Co-operation and other international tasks consider him a master of the art of compromise to gain a point.

Dual Role Difficult
In his new job Hammarskjold has the chief responsibility for administration—bussing the U. N.'s 3,000 Secretariat employees from nearly every member nation and seeing that the complex machinery operates smoothly. He also can recommend major policy action whenever he deems it necessary.

This dual role puts the secretary general in a hot water. Lie considered it a challenge to keep from becoming a mere "head clerk." Even the "head clerk" job, however, is loaded with explosive issues surrounding the U. S. loyalty program. Hammarskjold must tackle these problems immediately.

The Assembly gave grudging approval to Lie's personnel policies in general but only after delegates from even some of the closest allies of the U. S. criticized methods he accepted in co-operating with the American drive to wreck Red subversives and spies from public life.

Critics from Britain, France, Canada, Latin-American countries and Asia expressed misgivings over Lie's permitting the fingerprinting of American employees of the U. N. and allowing FBI agents to enter U. N. headquarters. The critics agreed any person proved to be spying or engaging in subversive activities against any member nation should not be fired. But several did not regard membership in the Communist party or the mere presentation of "derogatory information" as enough reason for firing an employee.

The majority of delegates, however, voted to let the secretary general continue along the lines set down by Lie, leaving it up to the chief executive's advisory council to outline any changes the situation may require. Most delegates hope the American loyalty issue soon will clear up and that the new boss of the U. N. will be relieved of some of the pressure this problem has brought on.

BONN, Germany (P)—West Germany's weak Communist party is said to be importing "foreign specialists" in strikes and sabotage from Italy especially—in a new effort to cripple industrial production.

Eligible Jobless Draw Unemployment Checks

(Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles on social security. Today's is on Unemployment Insurance.)

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY
WASHINGTON — CQ—Millions were looking for jobs in 1935 when Congress passed the Social Security Act. One of the programs it created was a federal-state system of unemployment insurance. It is administered at the federal level by the Department of Labor, rather than by the Social Security Administration which handles most welfare programs.

The first unemployment insurance law in the United States was passed by Wisconsin in 1933, but it did not come into full operation until after the Social Security Act became law.

The federal law gave the states two incentives to establish such programs and by July, 1937, all states, Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia had laws for that purpose.

Employers Taxed
The Act set up a federal unemployment tax on employers in industry and commerce who had eight or more employees in 20 weeks of the year.

The law made it possible, however, for employers to be relieved of paying most of this tax if they were contributors under a state unemployment insurance system. Congress also authorized grants to states, under certain conditions, to meet costs of administering state systems.

All contributions collected under the state laws must be deposited in the unemployment trust fund in the United States Treasury. The fund is invested as a whole, but each state has a separate account to which its deposits and its share of interest on investments are credited. The state may withdraw money from the account at any time but only to pay benefits.

Eligibility, Benefits

Following is Congressional Quarterly's summary of the requirements for eligibility and of the benefits paid.

Eligibility Requirements—The worker must register for work at a public employment office and enter his claim; he must have been employed in a job covered by the state law; this generally must be a job in private industry or commerce; in some states it must have been a job with a firm that had at least eight employees in 20 weeks of the year; more than half the states cover smaller firms.

He must have earned a certain amount of wage credits in covered jobs; that is, he must have had a certain amount of pay or worked for a certain period of time before losing the job; he must be able to work and available for work and ready to take a suitable job if one is offered.

Benefits—The maximum weekly benefit for a worker without dependents ranges among the states from $20 to $30 a week. The minimum weekly amount for any worker who qualifies ranges from $3 to $15. All states pay partial benefits for partial unemployment.

All but three states require a waiting period, usually a week, after a worker becomes unemployed before his benefits can begin. In most states a worker's earnings or employment under the law determine the length of time he can continue to receive benefits if he continues to be unemployed. In some it is as short as three weeks, in others as long as 26 weeks.

Sao Paulo, Brazil Is 400 Years Old

The twelve are Italy, France, Belgium, Austria, Paraguay, Venezuela, Czechoslovakia, the United States, Japan, Portugal, Lebanon and the Holy See.

Negotiations are underway to bring in the Vienna Symphony Orchestra for the festival.

Wilson Endows Harper Hospital

DETROIT (AP)—Harper Hospital disclosed receipt of a gift of approximately $100,000 in the form of 1,500 shares of General Motors common stock from Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson.

The former General Motors president specified that the funds be used to establish an endowment, the principal of which is to be invested by the hospital trustees.

Income from the fund is to be used for support of medical research, particularly in the field of cardio-vascular diseases, including heart surgery.

Wilson, a former president of the Michigan Heart Association, has been interested in heart research since his youngest brother, Robert, died of a heart attack six years ago.

The Defense Secretary, while he was GM president, gave the go-ahead for the GM research staff to aid in development of the so-called "mechanical heart" at Harper Hospital. It has been used successfully several times in history-making heart surgery.

Wilson specified in setting up the endowment that other people or sources may contribute to it to further the research work.

'Best Managed' Companies Listed

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Institute of Management, a non-profit organization, has listed the 10 companies it found in the "best managed" category in the country. The report lists 330 companies of 3,000 covered in a 12-month study as being excellently managed.

First place was awarded the Hotels Statler Co. Inc., "without doubt the best in production efficiency." The report says an analysis of Statler operations during 15 years warrants the observation that the company could operate efficiently even if room occupancy were to fall to 65 per cent instead of the current 90 per cent. The other "top 10" companies included American Telephone and Telegraph Co., E. I. du Pont de Nemours, B. F. Goodrich, Grand Union, Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., National Cash Register, National City Bank of N. Y., Procter & Gamble and Time, Inc.

Books Presented To Pinecrest School

POWERS-SPALDING—Through the courtesy of the John Winston Publishing Company of Chicago an excellent shipment of books was presented to the students of the Pinecrest School. Especially delightful were the beginning reading books also some books on are for the two little six year olds. Fiction stories dealing with adventures in American and English literature for seventh and eighth graders were among the selections. Since the students are all avid readers and it is difficult to secure a variety of books for seventh and eighth grade book reports as well as interesting material to keep the younger students busy, this gift was greatly appreciated by the Sanatorium school.

spent the Easter weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dahlke.

lected six important services from the many offered by banking institutions, checking accounts, thrift accounts, loan services, safety deposit boxes, travelers checks and cashier checks and drafts. She gave in detail the workings of each service, highlighting her descriptions with actual experiences she has encountered as an individual and as a representative of the Minneapolis Bank.

The checking account she termed "my pet" because of its convenience to women who wish to streamline their activities. Repeating the sage advice, "never carry more money than you can afford to lose" she cited the advantages of the checking account, the elimination of the danger of carrying large sums, provision of an easy, cheap and safe method of paying bills, the record of cancelled checks, the recap offered by the bank statement in relation to budgeting and the "stop-payment" protection. She also described the advantages of banking by mail.

The Golden Rule of Checks

Particularly important, she emphasized, is the golden rule of checking accounts, "make out the stub before you write the check."

She described thrift accounts which, in these days of high taxes and high costs, are something many cannot have, as "precious net eggs" and emphasized the dangers of being "one's own banker."

Continuing she told in detail of the loan services which now have become an accepted part of the American way of living, safety deposit boxes and their importance in keeping valuable documents in a safe place, readily available when needed, and the use of travelers checks and cashier checks and drafts.

A welcome to the Forum was extended by Harry Gruber, acting for William J. Warrington who is in Detroit on a business mission. Mr. Gruber, outlining the Forum program briefly, commented on the fact that women are accepting full responsibility in the financial picture of today. He called attention to a special display of books on finance which has been arranged by Mrs. Nancy B. Thomas at Carnegie Public Library. These books, listed in the Forum booklet distributed at the two sessions are available to all those interested in reading them.

The speaker was introduced by Miss Ethel R. Gilmore, secretary, State Bank of Escanaba.

Informal Discussion Period
An informal question and answer period followed the general meeting during which Miss McLeer, who is possessed of a thoroughly charming and friendly personality, gave advice on individual problems.

Warrington, Mrs. Harry Gruber, Mrs. Carl R. Wickman and Miss Patricia Farrell and Miss Margaret Hintz of the bank staff.

Today's Recipes

Credit for this recipe for a delicious fruit cottage cheese pie goes to Gladys Kositzke of Hyde.

Fruit Cottage Cheese Pie

1 1/2 cups zeiback or cornflakes crumbs rolled fine
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/3 cup melted butter
3/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 egg beaten
1/2 pound cottage cheese
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 1/2 cups drained fruit cocktail

Combine the crumbs, sugar, cinnamon and melted butter. Mix well. Pat crumb mixture firmly in an even layer over bottom and sides of greased 9-inch pie pan. Chill while you make filling.

For this combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in sauce pan and stir in milk. Place over medium heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly, about 5 minutes. Stir a little of mixture into beaten egg and add to remaining hot mixture. Cook for 2 minutes stirring constantly. Remove from heat and cool slightly. Put cottage cheese through fine sieve and add with lemon juice and rind to cooked mixture. Spoon into pie shell. Chill about 3 hours or longer, chilling fruit cocktail at the same time. Just before serving spoon a ring of fruit on top of pie.

"Until recently our state department looked casually on the war in Indo-China," the speaker said, "yet France is playing the same role there as we are in Korea. If Indo-China falls, the entire area of southeast Asia will drop like a ripe plum into Communist control."

MacArthur Was Right

Hall said that both the Korean and the Indo-China wars are fomented and maintained by Soviet Russia, without the cost of a single Russian life. "To the Chinese," he said, "the loss of vast hordes of soldiers in battle is unimportant; their manpower supply is virtually inexhaustible."

The speaker declared that General MacArthur's plan to exert pressure on China from the Yalu River area would probably have forced the Chinese to negotiate peace. Even the British now admit, he said, that the MacArthur plan would have been effective at a time when Red China was reeling from disastrous UN military blows.

A historic Russian policy, even under the Czars, Hall said, has been to secure one frontier in order to permit freedom of action on others.

Securing West Frontier

The Soviets now are creating a secure area on their western front, the speaker continued, in order to pursue planned objectives in Asia, India and Iran. The weaning of Germany away from the West is part of this effort, he said.

Even Yugoslavia with its present anti-Russian policy adds to Soviet security in the west, he said, because it would probably remain neutral in any clash, limiting the area where the Western Allies could apply military pressure to Russia.

There is only one region where the West can exert pressure against Russia—and that is the "soft underbelly" of Europe, Hall stated. "We must strengthen our position there and if Tito is not compliant, we should be ready to apply pressure on Yugoslavia also," he said.

"Cold War A Success"

Although the history of Russia is filled with a succession of military defeats, the Soviets are poised again to strike if the West lowers its guard, Hall said.

Before that happens, however, the Communists are achieving phenomenal success with their "cold war" against us, the speaker continued. Latest reports, he said, indicate that both Afghanistan and Pakistan are being set up for the "cold war" kill.

For five years or more, the United States has been subjected to continuing humiliation and insult at the hands of Russia, he said. "Even our allies are losing their respect for us, for we have been afraid to offend either friend or foe," he stated.

The time is now long past due for a change in our foreign policy, he said. The new administration has done a lot of talking but has given little action, he said. "The time has come when the United States must begin to think and act in terms of pressure and counter-pressure if we are to obtain security and peace," he concluded.

Plane Wreckage Found In Nets

Discovery of an aviator's jacket and parts of a wrecked airplane in Sellman Fish Company nets near Grand Marais Monday has spurred a search for a lost Canadian plane which disappeared over eastern Lake Superior last November with five men aboard. It was learned here yesterday afternoon.

The Coast Guard station at Grand Marais reported last night that a search was being made but no trace of the missing plane had been found. Wreckage collected in the Sellman nets was not identifiable and may not have come from the Canadian aircraft, Coast Guardsmen said.

William Sellman, of Manistique, owner of the commercial fish company, reported the finding of the airplane parts when he arrived here yesterday from Grand Marais.

The discovery was made by Robert Sellman, son of the fish company owner, while lifting nets 20 miles west of Grand Marais and about five miles out in the lake. He was aboard the Sellman tug, William Junior, which is stationed permanently at Grand Marais.

Sellman said that the Canadian plane, which was enroute from Houghton to Toronto, disappeared over eastern Lake Superior after being picked up once on radar. Five men were aboard, he said.

Besides the aviator's jacket the plane wreckage found in the nets included part of a windshield. A shaving outfit in a pocket of the jacket was completely smashed, Sellman said. The material was turned over to the Grand Marais Coast Guard Station by Sellman.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Fred Boddy, Escanaba Eskymo cage star, has been nominated for consideration by the selection committee of the North-South All American basketball classic to be held again this summer at Murray, Ky.

St. Joe's Pete Kutches became the first Michigan athlete ever selected to compete in the annual all-star classic last year.

Boddy is one of the most polished high school cagers we've seen in a long while of covering sports. The smart southpaw has the grace, timing and coordination the sport demands in this day and age. A great defensive man and a sharp playmaker, Boddy proved his versatility this past season by taking over the scoring burden for the Eskymos and averaging 20 points per game in 18 starts.

The Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association this year did not select the "player of the year" in basketball. But if such a selection had been made, Boddy would have been an almost unanimous choice for the honor. Every sports writer who saw Boddy perform this year gave him the nod for a first team berth on the all-class all-U. P. quint.

Boddy played many good ball games this year and figured in some sensational plays, but one stands out in our memory as the sweetest of the season. It happened in the game against Menominee in the Class B district championship tilt. Boddy took a quick pass from an Eskymo team mate, whirled to head down court and was confronted with a lanky Menominee player who attempted to cut the fleet cager off. Boddy, without a moment's hesitation flipped a bounce pass through the defender's legs, spun around his man and picked up the bounding ball in full stride to drive in for a layup.

The Escanaba senior is a first rate ball handler and his dribbling and passing game is top notch. He operated at forward, guard and center for Coach Burt Gustafson and did an outstanding job at all positions. In the slot he was death on the opposing pivotman with his variety of hooks, push shots and underhand flips.

Boddy is easily the outstanding Escanaba High School player in recent years. Whether he will be selected for a berth on the all-star squad remains to be seen. Outstanding players from throughout the country are being nominated daily and the competition, of course, will be terrific. But anyone who has seen Boddy in action on the cage court would be willing to put the Escanaba boy in with the best of them.

Ernie Lombardi Suicide Attempt In California

OAKLAND, Calif. (P) — Ernie Lombardi, two-time former National League batting champion and in 1938 its most valuable player, was found Wednesday night with his throat slashed from ear to ear.

His wife, Berice, and deputy sheriffs Floyd Harrison and Edward Brosman said Lombardi resisted their first attempt to rush him to a hospital yelling, "Let me die!"

Highland Hospital authorities said they did not expect the husky ex-major league catcher to live. He had lost a great amount of blood.

Mrs. Lombardi said her husband had been despondent the past week and had been threatened to take his life. She said she was accompanying him to Livermore, Calif., Sanitarium when he asked to visit Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Van Ness in Castro Valley.

Mrs. Lombardi continued: Ernie, 45, said he felt ill, and went into the Van Ness bedroom. When she went to inquire how he felt, she found him with his throat slashed. A single edge razor blade was on the floor.

Lombardi had been operating a liquor store in nearby San Leandro since retiring from baseball in 1948. In his last active year, he played for the Oakland Oaks, who won the Pacific Coast League pennant.

Colorful Career Lombardi, a 6 foot 2 inch power hitter, played for the Cincinnati Reds, Boston Braves and New York Giants during a long and colorful major league career.

He won the National League batting championship with .342 with Cincinnati in 1938 and then was voted the league's most valuable player. In 1942 he again won the league batting title with .331 with the Boston Braves.

Gallardo Beats Percy Bassett

WASHINGTON (P) — Dave Gallardo, 23-year-old Mexican from Los Angeles, slashed his way to a unanimous decision over Percy Bassett, interim featherweight boxing champion, in ten rugged rounds nationally televised Wednesday night.

The two spent most of the 10 rounds in one corner or another chopping away with short rights and lefts to the head and body.

Bassett, a Philadelphia Negro who recently won the interim title by defeating Ray Farnochon of France, weighed 129½ to Gallardo's 129 1/4.

Gallardo cried unashamedly as the decision was announced. "I'm so happy for my wife and children," Gallardo said. "Maybe now I can get some bouts and earn some money to give them the things they deserve."

Gallardo is the father of a girl and two boys.

Lane Sees Chicago Flag If Stephens Is Regular

(AP Newsfeatures)

TAMPA, Fla.—Vernon (Junior) Stephens is nearing the end of his baseball playing career after 11 years in the American League, yet General Manager Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox figures his team will cop the pennant if Stephens can play regularly.

"Stephens is so anxious to play this season that I have signed him to a provisional contract," says Lane. "He can match his $35,000 salary of 1952 if he plays regularly."

"After we got Stephens from the Red Sox I asked him 'How many games do you think you can play?'" "I'd like to play them all," Vernon answered.

"That was my cut to sign him on the basis of games played. He will get so much if he plays 100 games and much more if he can play 120 games. On his basic contract he took a sizable cut."

Stephens last year played less than 100 games for the first time in his career which shows 1,090 runs batted in. Hobbled by a bad knee in 1952, he got in 92 games and hit only .254, the lowest he ever hit. Though only 32, Stephens is very slow foot.

"We (Manager Paul Richards and Lane) think his bat will replace that of Ed Robinson who was traded to the A's for Ferris Fain," says the man who has traded $2,500,000 in players the last few years. "Stephens is a $100,000 player to us, even though he must beat out Rocco Krsnich for the third base post."

"When he plays he gives us a million dollar infield with Fain on first, Nelly Fox on second and Chico Carrasquel on short."

Lane, a winter resident of St. Petersburg, stopped off here for a few days before heading for the White Sox training base in California.

"Much depends on shortstop," says Lane. "Carrasquel missed nine weeks because of a broken finger. I have a contract with him on weight problems and in order to make more money he must under 175 pounds in mid-season. I can't speak Spanish but I know the Venezuelan understands dinner (money), and he loves it."

"The Yankees didn't win the pennant on hitting, they won it by their defense. That's why we got Fain. He's a great fielder and a fine bunter and great on the hit and run play."

The White Sox won only 8 of 22 games with the Yankees last year when they finished their, 14 games back of the champions.

"We were second at All-Star Game time last July," says Lane "and I think we'll make a better run for the pennant this season. That Stephens deal could be a big one for us. And Fain—well, we offered the A's $300,000 for him (cash and/or players) two years ago."

Women's Kegling Tourney Opens

Milwaukee Braves Are Home, Take On Bosox

MILWAUKEE (P)—It's Christmas in Milwaukee for thousands of excited baseball fans today as manager Charlie Grimm unwraps the National League's gift to the city—the Milwaukee Braves.

The weatherman says no rain will crash the gate at Milwaukee's first major league ball game in over half a century. The Braves meet the Boston Red Sox in an exhibition starting at 1:30 p. m., (CST) in Milwaukee's new 5 million dollar stadium. The anticipated turnout is 20,000.

A wildly enthusiastic crowd of 60,000 lined a five-mile parade route Wednesday as the Braves were hauled on display in convertibles through the streets of their new home.

Grimm thought the reception at the depot was "the greatest thing I ever saw." There was brass band music, pretty models wearing Indian bonnets and tight white sweaters and a red carpet stretching from the tracks out into the street.

In the afternoon the players got acquainted with their new diamond in a one hour limbering up drill. Three thousand fans watched the workout—more than attended many a Milwaukee Brewer American Association game last season.

Rally At Arena

Topping off the Braves first day

Roy Bagley continues as president of the circuit, Glenn Fleetwood as vice president and Frank Rodman as secretary-treasurer.

The Tri County league will open action on May 10. League schedule will be drawn up and announced in the near future, Bagley stated.

Name Ned Garver To Pitch Tiger Opener

COLUMBUS, O. (P)—The turning point now is complete: it will be Ned Garver for the Detroit Tigers and Virgil Trucks for the St. Louis Browns when the two teams open their American League season at St. Louis next Tuesday night.

Manager Fred Hutchinson announced his choice of Garver as the Tigers moved over here from Charleston, W. Va., where yesterday's scheduled exhibition with Cincinnati was rained out.

The selection immediately reminded Detroit fans that it was Garver, in a Brownie uniform then, who shut out the Tigers 3-0 on a neat six-hitter on opening day a year ago.

Won Three Of Four

In fact, the boyish-faced Garver makes sort of a practice of winning opening games. He pitched the lid-lifter four out of the five seasons he spent with the Browns and won three of them.

Trucks, the ex-Tiger fireballer, previously had been named by St. Louis manager Marty Marion as this starter. It was old Dizzy Trout, not Trucks, who was outpitched by Garver in last year's opener.

Garver also was Hutchinson's choice to face Cincinnati today in what was supposed to have been the second in a series of five straight exhibitions with the Reds leading up to the American League inaugural.

At Home Thursday The two teams are scheduled to meet in Cincinnati tomorrow and Sunday and at Richmond, Ind., on Saturday. The Tigers will not get to Detroit until the home opener with Cleveland next Thursday.

Garver, obtained in a trade with the Browns late last season, has not been sensational so far this spring. But Hutchinson figures he can bear down a lot harder than he has in winning two of three exhibitions. He was the only Tiger hurler to go a full nine innings in Florida, beating the Reds' "B" team 13-8 last Sunday. He gave up 12 hits then, six of them in the last two innings.

With yesterday's game called off, Hutchinson ordered the squad through a light workout to iron out travel kinks acquired in the two-day trip from Florida to Charleston.

Connie Broden, Bill Sinnett and Reg Crigg got Cincinnati's other goals. Dan O'Connor, Gordie Kerr and John Lumley scored for the Sox.

The fifth—and possibly last—game will be played here Friday night.

Soo Indians Trail 3-1 In Amateur Hockey Playoffs

SAULT STE. MARIE (P)—The International Hockey League champion Cincinnati Mohawks held a commanding 3-1 lead in games over the Sault Ste. Marie Indians today in their semi-final, best-of-seven playoff series for the U. S. Amateur Hockey title.

The third victory came by the narrowest of margins here last night when a sudden death overtime goal by left winger Russ Kowalchuk gave the Mohawks a 4 to 3 win.

The Soo Indians, representing the Northern Ontario Hockey Association, led most of the game but were drawn into a 3-3 dead-lock at the end of regulation play.

One regular 10-minute overtime period failed to produce a score and the sudden death play began. It was two minutes and eight seconds later that Kowalchuk, on a pass from Dell Topall, fired in a 15-foot angle shot.

Connie Broden, Bill Sinnett and Reg Crigg got Cincinnati's other goals. Dan O'Connor, Gordie Kerr and John Lumley scored for the Soo.

The fifth—and possibly last—game will be played here Friday night.

Have Won National League's Race Three Straight

Cubs Eye Grapefruit Title

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports writer

Three years running the Chicago Cubs have won the National League's section of the Grapefruit Circuit. Now they're in a position to do it again.

When the Cubs scored their third straight one-run victory over the St. Louis Browns yesterday they boosted their over-all spring record to 18-13. Only Brooklyn with 18-11 and Pittsburgh with 10-6 top the Cubs. And the Pittsburgh mark has been built almost exclusively against minor league clubs.

Dee Fondy and Preston Ward, a pair of long-ball hitting first basemen who once belonged to Brooklyn, have sparked the Cubs' gradual improvement this spring. Ward, particularly, has been impressive since coming out of the Army.

Hits Two Homers

He banged a pair of homers against the Browns in Topeka, Kan., yesterday to run his total to seven in the last 10 games. Fondy, too, is on a homer spree and his circuit blow yesterday was his fourth in three games. The Cubs beat the Browns, 7-6, with the deciding runs coming on still another homer by Bob Addis.

The Cubs have four spring games left—against the Browns in Kansas City today and then three with the White Sox in the Chicago city series starting tomorrow.

Although they have won handily in the spring, the Cubs of the past three seasons have found regular league competition a very different thing. In 1951 they finished seventh. In 1952 they were last and last year they wound up fifth—highest since 1946.

The injury jinx which has struck the major league clubs heavily in the closing weeks of the training season hit the New York Giants again yesterday and benched their No. 1 rookie, Darl Spencer, for at least two weeks.

Spencer was hit in the face with a fast ball thrown by Cleveland pitcher Mike Garcia at Nashville and suffered a minor fracture to his left cheek bone. He had been scheduled to open the season at third base.

Earlier in the spring Garcia hit Bobby Thomson of the Giants on his right hand with a pitched ball, resulting in a minor fracture. The Giants whipped the Indians, 11-10, despite a four-run Cleveland rally in the ninth.

Staley Goes Route
Gerry Staley, who will open the season for the St. Louis Cardinals, went all the way against the Little Rock Travelers yesterday and shut out the Southern Association club on seven hits, 10-0.

all the runs as the Phils edged the Boston Red Sox, 2-1. Hamner homered over the center field wall in the second and over the right field wall in the fifth.

Brooklyn was blipped for the second time this spring as Bob Porterfield of the Washington Senators gave up only four hits in a night game at Griffith Stadium at Washington. The Senators pounded four Dodger hurlers for 11 hits to win, 7-0.

The White Sox won their sixth in a row at the expense of the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern Association, 14-0.

Mangrum, Snead And Hogan Are Masters Tourney Early Leaders

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Favorites Lloyd Mangrum, Sam Snead and Ben Hogan led a record field of 73 golf aristocrats into today's opening round of the 17th annual Masters Tournament.

Mangrum, top money winner on the winter circuit, gave the boys something to shoot at when he fired a 9-under-par 663 in practice yesterday—nobody could recall a lower Masters practice round.

Mangrum, playing out of Niles, Ill., holds the official tournament record of 663, set in 1940.

Eagles on the second and 15th holes helped him put together his 32-31—663 over the rolling 6,900-yard Augusta National course.

3 Men to Beat

Snead and Hogan, who now hit only the high spots, were picked by fellow professionals as the men to beat.

Snead is the defending champion and Hogan won in 1951. The field includes all except two of the winners of previous Masters.

Snead hoped to accomplish something no one else has managed—two Masters victories in a row.

Does the selection as a favorite plus the "jinx" against consecutive victories both the White Sulphur Spring, W. Va., veteran?

"Naw," he drawled. "That doesn't worry me. The course is in the best shape I've ever seen it, and I'm not superstitious. I'll just try to shoot my best game. My practice rounds have been fair. Had a 2 under par today. It's a whole lot different when you ring the bell."

Hogan, the little Texan who won his Masters after recovering from a close brush with death in an auto-bus collision, came here about 10 days early to polish up his game.

In semiretirement from tournament play, this will be his first major event since the National Open last June. His best practice round was a 66 last week, and he was under 70 consistently.

The 73 entries, one more than the record established in the inaugural 1934 tourney, includes other such strong contenders as Julius Boros, National Open Champion; Jack Burke, 1952 Masters runner-up; Jim Ferrier; Lew Worsham; Cary Middlecoff; Al Bessellink; and Ted Kroll.

Also on hand are some of the old-timers like Gene Sarazen, Byron Nelson, Chick Evans, Olin Dutra and Horton Smith.

Detroit Trooper Shoots Himself

BRIGHTON (AP)—State police of the Brighton post received a call Tuesday to investigate a suicide. From all appearances it was a routine call. But with their usual dispatch they answered it.

Troopers drove to a side road near here and found the victim: State Police Detective Wallace R. Teddy, formerly attached to the Brighton post.

Teddy, 39, had shot himself with his service revolver.

A member of the force since 1940, he had served at the Rockford, Ypsilanti and Brighton state posts before being assigned to his home town of Detroit in 1951. He had six citations for meritorious service and one for bravery.

Last January Teddy found out he had tuberculosis. He was forced to leave his wife and three small children to be hospitalized in a Howell Sanatorium. Officers at other state police posts contributed regularly, providing him and his family $300 a month.

But fellow officers said Teddy became despondent. Tuesday he went on an eight-hour pass from the sanatorium, packed his bag and took the family car. He was found dead about the time the pass expired.

Three of Teddy's brothers—Fred of Detroit, Harold of New Buffalo and William of Marquette — are state police patrolmen.

'Hard Way' Crossing Of Atlantic Planned

LAS PALMAS, Gran Canaria, Is. (AP)—Fernando Mayolas, a Spanish seaman born in Gijon, plans to better the recent feat of the Frenchman Alain Bombard. He will shortly attempt to cross the Atlantic in 40 days in a small craft, no bigger than a barrel.

Bombard recently crossed the Atlantic to America in a tiny raft formed by two rubber torpedoes 18 feet long. His trip was to prove a person can subsist from the sea.

Mayolas will leave from Las Palmas for Puerto Rico, then to Santo Domingo and finally Havana. The "Asturias" only carries a small sail and there is hardly room for Mayolas to sit down. "Mayolas' main purpose is to prove that the "Spaniards are able to realize, with more difficulties, what others have done."
